He received specialized instruction in small unit tactics and in firing such weapons as the M-14 rifle, the M-60 machinegun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Art Teachers To Meet Here

El Camino College will be the host college for the second annual state conference of the California Art Education Association Jan. 13, 14 and 15, according to Harold Wennstrom, dean of the Division of Fine Arts at the college.

The conference will be attended by elementary, junior high, senior high, and college level art teachers from throughout the state.

Various types of art forms will be on display in the halls of the Music building where most of the conference sessions will be held. Included on the three-day agenda will be workshops for the different school levels, speakers and reports from various committees.

On Dean's List

Dennis S. Albright, 2512 Sierra St., has been named to the Dean's List for the fall quarter at Adams State College, Alamosa, Colo.

Tickets Ready for El Camino Comedy

Tickets go on sale Thursday for the midwinter production of "Take Her, She's Mine" presented by the El Camino College theater arts department.

The play will be given three nights—Jan. 12, 13 and 14—in the Campus Theater at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the college bookstore for $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students with an activity coupon.

Directed by William Buck, theater arts instructor, "Take Her, She's Mine" is a comedy about a Southern California teenage girl, just graduated with honors from high school, who goes to an Eastern College for women—a college which just happens to be surrounded by Harvard, Dartmouth, and Yale.

INCLUDED IN the cast is

Louise Kassebaum playing the part of Mollie Michaelson, a West Coast girl who attends an Eastern women's college. Ken Heckman portrays her father, Frank Michaelson, who worries about his daughter's safety in the midst of the world of Ivy League men.

Valerie Humphreys plays the role of Mollie's younger sister, Liz, and Floyd Hanson portrays Mollie's home-town suitor, Emmett Whitmyer. Tom Eberhardt takes the part of the principal and Renee LeVasseur plays Adele McDougall. Others in the cast are Kim Turner as Sarah Walker, Roger Werner as Don Bowdry, Tim Odening as Alfred Greiffinger, and Christine Vasquez as Mrs. Michaelson.

Also included in the cast are William Byrne as Alex Loomis, Don Miller as Mr. Whitmyer, Ellen Shepard as Linda Lehman, Sal Romeo as Clancy Sussman and Richard Ulrich as Mr. Hibbets. Completing the cast of characters are William Snare as the airline clerk, Diane Kozlow as the girl on campus and Gerald Hogan, Mike Hubert and Chris Hays as the three freshmen.

SETS FOR the play were designed by Les Thomas;

New Show About Telescopes Scheduled at Observatory

How telescopes work will be explained and demonstrated during the new astronomy show "Wonders Revealed by the Telescope," which opens Monday, Jan. 2, through Feb. 5, at Griffith Park Observatory's planetarium theater.

The image of the filament of an incandescent lamp will be reproduced on the planetarium theater's 75-foot domed ceiling by means of a lens which refracts, or bends, the light rays to bring them to a focus. This demonstrates the principle of the refracting telescope.

TO ILLUSTRATE how reproduction is supervised by Bob Crutchfield. Bert Ayers is technical director.

Students assisting in the production are Rebecca Goldstein, assistant to the director; Karen Rivera, stage manager; Carolyn Eubank, properties; Vickie Gossett, costumes; Dave Hedge, production historian; Robert Giovannucci, publicity; and Chris Hays, lighting. Crew members include Barbara Burns, Susan Button, Yolanda Encino, Melodie England, Joyce Erickson, Carolyn Eubank, Sandra Frederick, and Karen Rivera.

Tickets will also be sold at the campus theater box office the night of the performances as available.

flecting telescopes work, an image will be formed with a concave mirror, coated with aluminum. The largest telescope in the world, located at Mount Palomar, has such a mirror, 200 inches in diameter.

Telescope photographs of heavenly bodies will be reproduced on the planetarium theater's ceiling during presentations of the show; and star clusters such as the great globular cluster in Hercules, and galaxies like the Andromeda Galaxy, which contain billions of stars, will also be reproduced.

ON OPENING day a school holiday, four shows will be presented at 1:30, 3, 4:30 and 8:30 p.m. Thereafter, "Wonders Revealed by the Telescope" will be shown twice daily Tuesday through Sunday, at 3 and 8:30 p.m. Added matinees will be offered on weekends, at 1:30 and 4:30 p.m.

Planetarium theater admission fees are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students under 18 years of age. There is no charge for touring the Hall of Science, containing numerous astronomical exhibits, which is open to the public from 2 to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, and from 1 to 10 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.
